Dear Records Custodian:

On May 26, 2026, the American Civil Liberties Union (“ACLU”) of Wyoming filed a lawsuit against the Laramie County Sheriff’s Office (“LCSO”) concerning three Memorandums of Agreement between the LCSO and U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) allowing the LCSO to perform certain immigration operations for ICE. The lawsuit alleges that the LCSO violated state law when its Sheriff unilaterally entered these agreements without legal authority to do so and without following the required procedures in the Wyoming Administrative Procedures Act. Specifically, the suit alleges that the power to enter into these agreements and to incur the expenses specified in the agreements lies with county commissioners, not with county sheriffs. See W.S. §§ 18-2-101(a)(iv) and 18-6-313. A copy of the Complaint can be found here. <https://www.aclu-wy.org/cases/juntos-et-al-v-kozak/?document=Complaint-for-Declaratory-and-Injunctive-Relief>
